

Bases of Neuropathology

РЕПОЗИТОРИЙ БГПУ

Biography of
L.O. Badalyan

Badalyan
Levon
Oganesovich
(1929-1994)

founder of domestic pediatric neurology, academician of the Academy of Medical Sciences of the USSR, laureate of the USSR State Prize

Life Background Information

- ❖ Born in Yerevan in the family of a doctor
- ❖ 1953 – graduated from the Yerevan Medical Institute
- ❖ 1956-1959 – chief doctor of the resort of Jermuk
- ❖ 1958 – defended his thesis
- ❖ 1959-1963 – assistant of the Department of Nervous Diseases of the 2nd Moscow Medical Institute named after N.I.Pirogov
- ❖ 1963 – organized and until his death led the first in the USSR department of pediatric neurology with a laboratory of medical genetics
- ❖ 1964 – defended his doctoral dissertation

L.O.Badalyan with students at a subbotnik

L.O.Badalyan the Scientist

- ❖ The founder of domestic pediatric neurology
- ❖ The author of more than 150 scientific works, including a number of monographs devoted to hereditary diseases of the nervous system in children
- ❖ Under the direction of L.O.Badalyan, more than 40 theses were defended, including seven doctoral

Badalyan's sphere of scientific interests

- ❖ Pediatric Neurology
- ❖ Progressive Muscular Dystrophy
- ❖ Clinical genetics
- ❖ Perinatal pathology
- ❖ Evolutionary neurology

Main works of L.O.Badalyan

- ❖ Hereditary diseases of the neuromuscular system (1974)
- ❖ Pediatric neurology: a guide for pediatric faculties (1975)
- ❖ Early Childhood Neurology Guide (1980)
- ❖ Neuropathology: a guide for defectologists (1982)
- ❖ Clinical Electroneuromyography (1986)
- ❖ Infantile Cerebral Paralysis (1988)
- ❖ Hereditary Ataxia (1992)

Л. О. Бадалян

НЕВРОПАТОЛОГИЯ

Several generations of defectologists have been studying the discipline “Bases of Neuropathology” from the Badalyan’s textbook “Neuropathology: a guide for defectologists”. It run into ten editions and still remains popular, combining the clarity of exposition with high scientific value

Achievements of L.O.Badalyan

- ❖ Academician of the USSR Academy of Medical Sciences
- ❖ Laureate of the USSR State Prize (for the textbook "Pediatric Neurology")
- ❖ Chief neuropathologist of the city of Moscow
- ❖ Chairman of the All-Russian Problem Commission on Medical Genetics and Human Hereditary Diseases of the USSR Ministry of Health
- ❖ Deputy Chairman of the Society of Neurologists and Psychiatrists of the USSR
- ❖ Vice president of the European Association of Pediatric Neurologists

Badalyan's grave at the Armenian Vagankovsky cemetery (Moscow)

Badalyan Oganes Levonovich the successor of his famous father

- ❖ Doctor of Medicine, professor, Department of Neurology, Neurosurgery and Medical Genetics, Russian National Research Medical University named after N.I.Pirogov
- ❖ Neurologist of the highest category
- ❖ Specialist in the field of epilepsy and paroxysmal collapse